Abbott, Evelyn and Campbell, Lewis.
Benjamin Jowett.

Life and letters of

N. Y. Dutton London Murray 1897. 2v. portraits, plates, fac-sim, O. $10.

Biographia of "the 19th century Dr. Johnson," the Master of Balliol; from some 50 volumes of Jowett's notes of conversations and of his own thoughts and letters, all letters to Jowett having been destroyed; contains much of unique value for the history of English national life and thought since 1836, the church, Oxford, Balliol, and Greek studies, with references to Browning, Eliot, Disraeli, Carlyle, Ruskin, Stanley, Symonds, Toynbee, etc. but with few personalities; with illustrative letters, and list of Jowett's works and portraits. A number of valuable letters on more general topics are reserved for another volume; of general interest and value, being good biographical material, although faulty in arrangement and style; objective treatment.

Ath. 1897. 1:437; Nation 64:418; Sat. R. 83:385; Ed. R. 185:405; Quar. 185:331.

Atkinson, Thomas Dinham.

Cambridge described and illustrated, being a short history of the town and university.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1897. 37+528 p. illus. plates, maps, O. $7.

From Cooper, Willis and Clark, Cambridge Antiquarian Society; contents: Town, 1-241, gilds, topography, architecture, churches, religious houses, fairs, schools; University, 241-502, with bibliographical list, and introduction by J. W. Clark; gives little that is new, but is of some value as a handy reference book. The best history of the town is by Cooper, of the University, by Mullinger.

Eng. Hist. R. 13:389 (J. B. Mullinger); Spec. 79:900; Nation 66:117.

Blomfield, Reginald.
England, 1500-1800.

History of Renaissance architecture in London Bell [N. Y. Macmillan] 1897. 2v. Q. $16.

The best history of the subject; from the most important sources and authorities, the Soane Museum, Transactions of the Institute of British Architects, etc; describes the influence of Italy on ornamentation in the southern counties in the time of Henry 8 and Edward 6, and of Germany in the eastern counties in the time of Elizabeth and James, the country house, the Palladianism of Inigo Jones, the block-plan, architectural literature, survivals of Gothic, Sir Chris. Wren, French and Dutch influence, the academic Palladians, eclecticism; with information about the stage, the trades, carpentry, masonry, etc. and numerous reproductions of contemporary prints; supplementary to Gotch's views 1560-1630, and Belcher and Macartney, 1640-1800.

Ath. 1897. 2:790; Ed. R. 187:415; Acad. 52:477.

Cunningham, William.

Alien immigrants to England.

Egerton, Hugh Edward. Short history of British colonial policy.
London Methuen 1897. 15+503 p. O. 12s. 6d.

The best short history; from the most accessible printed sources and authorities, Bruce, Brown, etc. Contents: Beginnings, Trade ascendancy, Systematic colonization and granting of responsible government, Zenith and decline of laissez-aller principles, Greater Britain; descriptive of events and opinion, with short bibliography (481-91); a good book for reference. clear, dry, Imperialist. The best introduction to this subject is J. R. Seeley "Expansion of England," the best constitutional treatise is by Alpheus Todd.

Econ. R. 8:261 (W. R. Inge); Nation 66:190; Sat. R. 85:558; Ath. 1897. 2:853. Pol. Sci. Q. 8:538 (G. L. Beer); Eng. Hist. R. 13:778 (E. J. Payne).

Fleming, David Hay. Mary Queen of Scots, from her birth to her flight into England.
London Hodder 1897. 12+543 p. O. 7s. 6d.

A useful biographical essay; from the Hamilton Papers, Detectio, Book of Articles, etc.; tabulating for the first time the whole of the evidence of the Register of the Privy Seal regarding her movements in an Itinerary, with critical notes, p. 177-491, and a few documents hitherto unpublished, p. 491-515; scholarly but dull. Hosack and Skelton are the most devoted pro-Marian, Mignet the ablest anti-Marian, Philippson 3 v. 1891-92, the most reliable and comprehensive life.

Ath. 1897. 2:703,821; Sat. R. 84:754; Spec. 79:932; Acad. 52:521.

Gardiner, Samuel Rawson. Cromwell's place in history.
London and N. Y. Longmans 1897. 5+120 p. D. $1.

An authoritative biographical essay, aiming "to estimate his relation to the political and ecclesiastical movements of his time, to show how he was influenced by them and influenced them in turn"; represents Cromwell to have been a warrior rather than statesman, and his work destructive not constructive, "the greatest because the most typical Englishman of all time." The most valuable critical essay on this subject, the extreme Tory view of which is given in Heath and Hume, the extreme liberal in the hero-story of Carlyle and his followers.

Am Hist. R. 3:135 (Goldwin Smith); Atlan. 81:842 (J. F. Rhodes); Nation 65:132 (A. V. Dicey); Ath. 1897. 2:873; Hist. Ztsch. 81:330 (A. Stern); Eng. Hist. R. 12:578 (G. P. Gooch).

Gardiner, Samuel Rawson. What Gunpowder Plot was.
London and N. Y. Longmans 1897. 8+208 p. illus. plate, D. $1.50.

A critical essay upon the origin of the Gunpowder Plot in reply to Father Gerard's "What was the Gunpowder Plot?" (Jesuit); discusses in defence of the traditional story the evidences and the topography of the story, and the policy of the government toward priests and Catholics; of value to the student as a supplement to the standard work of David Jardine 1857.

Am. Hist. R. 3:348 (W. D. Johnston); Nation 65:400 (C. W. Colby); Dub. R. 120:299 (B. Cam); Gardiner-Gerard controversy continued in [on the character of the conspirators] Gerard's "Gunpowder Plot and Gunpowder Plotters," and in articles on Garnet in The Month 63:58,382; 64:41 and [on the character of the evidence] in Gerard's "Thomas Winter's confession," and in the Athenæum 1897. 2:785,855; 1898. 1:23; 2:352. See also A. Bellesheim in Hist-polit. Blätter 121:8.

London and N. Y. Redway 1897. 2v. portraits, O. 31s. 6d.

Biography and memoir; from the Diary of Margaret Hazlitt, etc. Contents: 1. The American visit 1783-88. 2. Wm. Hazlitt, artist and writer, Sir Jas. Mackintosh, Godwin, Jerdan. 3. William Hazlitt journalist and judge, Carlyle, Turner, Bentham, Hepworth Dixon, Our Club. 4. W. C. Hazlitt, Merchant Taylors' School, the Lamb Letters, London suburban life, Thos. Wright, S. C. Hall, John Forster, the Royal family, Gladstone, Browning, Tennyson, Huth, Laing, Sotheby's, the British Museum, etc. anecdotes and characterizations; of value as supplementary to the Memoirs of Wm. Hazlitt 1867, but garrulous.

Acad. 51:198; Sat. R. 83:147.

King, Charles Cooper. Story of the British army.

London Methuen 1897. 10+426 p. illus. maps, plans, O. 7s. 6d.

The best short history of the British Army; describes the development of armament, organism, and tactics in different wars, especially in the modern period, 1793-1896 (p. 128-407), in the Peninsula, the Crimea, India, and Africa, with lists of campaigns and battles since 1688, of regiments, badges, mottoes, and nicknames; and illustrations of arms, armor, uniforms, etc.; of interest to the general reader, readable and reliable. The most comprehensive history of the army is by Sir Sibbald Scott 3 v. 1868-80.

Ath. 1898. 1:305; Nation 66:465. Eng. Hist. R. 13:762 (J. E. Morris).

Law, Ernest. Short history of Hampton Court.

London Bell [N. Y. Macmillan] 1897. 11+421 p. illus. portraits, O. $3.

An abridgement of the author's larger work 3 v. 1885-91, but less topographical, with little about architecture and art; contains much relating to the royal household, court life, and diplomacy, Wolsey, the Conference 1604, the King's confinement 1647, a popular resort; with reproductions of many contemporary prints; a more valuable work but of less general interest than W. H. Hutton, 1897.

Ath. 1897. 2:784; Spec. 80:92; M. of Art, 22:234.

McCarthy, Justin. Story of Gladstone's life.

N. Y. and London Macmillan 1897c. 12+436 p. illus. portraits, plates, O. $6.

A Home-ruler's memoir of Gladstone; based upon personal acquaintance; of permanent value as a memoir; written in an entertaining style and well illustrated, but partisan-eulogistic, gossipy and inaccurate. See for best biography G. B. Smith, for best short one G. W. F. Russell. Careful Gladstone bibliography, Notes and queries, Dec. 10, 24, 1892; Jan. 7, 21, 1893.

Ath. 1898. 1:182; Sat. R. 85:178; Spec. 80:342; Acad. 53:199.

Mahan, Alfred Thayer. The life of Nelson the embodiment of the sea-power of Great Britain.

Boston Little, Brown 1897. 2 v. portraits, plate, map, plans, O. $8.

The authoritative life of Nelson; from the collection of Hamilton and Nelson letters published by Alfred Morrison, etc.; makes Nelson describe himself as far as possible, tell the story of his own inner life as well as of his external actions; of extraordinary value and interest as the first complete estimate of Nelson's powers, and as a supplement to the author's "Influence of sea power"; brilliantly written. Charles Beresford and H. W. Wilson's life is the best popular, and Southey's the best literary account of Nelson. See Macmil. 76:92 (D. Hannay) "Nelson and his biographers."

Fortn. 67:895 (W. O. Morris); Eng. Hist. R. 12:801 (J. K. Laughton); 19th Cent. 41:893 (G. S. Clarke); Nation 64:285 (C. W. Colby); Sat. R. 83:363 (P. H. Colomb); Ed. R. 186:84; Atlan. 80:264; Ath. 1897. 1:497.

Maitland, Frederic William. Domesday Book and beyond; three essays in the early history of England.

Cambridge [Eng.] University press 1897. 13+527 p. O. $4.50.

The most valuable discussion of Anglo-Saxon institutions since Kemble; by the authority upon early English law; using Round and Meitzen; contents: 1. Domesday Book a geld book, villeins, sake and soke, manor, borough. 2. England before the Conquest, bookland, folkland, village community. 3. The hide; of value as a criticism especially of Seebohm, and for its discussion of these theses; no manorial system before the 12th and 13th centuries; the village an agrarian not a political community; origin of the borough military not economic, etc. written in a fascinating style.

Eng. Hist. R. 12:768 (James Tait); Am. Hist. R. 3:130 (C. M. Andrews); Pol. Sc. Q. 12:715 (C. Gross); Ath. 1897. 1:274

Mason, Arthur James., editor. Mission of St. Augustine to England, according to the original documents, being a handbook for the 13th centenary.

Cambridge [Eng.] University press 1897. 19+252 p. maps, D. 5s.

W. Oman; Augustine's mission in relation to other agencies in the conversion of England, the Editor; Landing place of, with map, T. M. Hughes; some liturgical points relating to, H. A. Wilson; Anglican; of special value to the churchman; superior to the shorter controversial works of G. F. Browne 1897 (Anglican), and Father Brou 1897 (Romanist), but of less critical value than Bassenge 1890.

Ath. 1897. 2:313; Sat. R. 83:640.

Masterman, John Howard Bertram.

Age of Milton.

London Bell [N. Y. Macmillan] 1897.

21+254 p. D. 3s. 6d.

A manual of English literature 1632-60; from the most accessible authorities; contains bibliographic notes on Milton, Sir Thos. Browne, Fuller, Hobbes, the dramatic and lyrical poets, theological, historical, and biographical writers, etc. with introduction and articles on Cowley, Hacket, Falkland, and the Cambridge Platonists by J. B. Mullinger; of slight value to anyone, Masson being the only good special history of this period.

Ath. 1897. 2:64; Acad. 52:130.

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson).

Annals of a publishing house: William Blackwood and his sons, their magazine and friends.

London Blackwood N. Y. Scribner 1897.

2 v. portraits, O. $10.50.

Contains much matter illustrative of the history of periodical literature 1815-1861, Blackwood's New Monthly, Quarterly, Spectator, and of the work of Scott, Lockhart, Wilson, Hogg, Maguire, Coleridge, De Quincey, Galt, Croker, Croly, Gleig, Hemans, Thackeray, Lytton, Eliot, Disraeli, Kinglake, etc. of value to the student of the history of literature.

Ordish, Thomas Fairman.

Shakespeare's London.

London Dent N. Y. Macmillan 1897.

7+257 p. illus S.

A useful study of Shakespeare's London environment; from John Gerard's Herball, Stowe, Hentzner, etc. Contents: The English historical plays, Nature and London, The comedies, Shakespeare's London haunts; of general interest and value, inferior in style but more scholarly than C. D. Warner, 1897; does for the manhood of Shakespeare what W. J. Rolfe's "Shakespeare the boy" does for his boyhood.

Spect. 79:859.

Pollard, Albert Frederick, editor.

Political pamphlets.

London Kegan Paul N. Y. Holt 1897.

6+345 p. D. 6s.

Pamphlets selected for their style and influence: Sexby's Killing no murder, Halifax's Draft of a new model at sea, Halifax's Choice of members of parliament, Arbuthnot's Political lying, Steele's Crisis, Swift's Present state of affairs, Bolingbroke's State of parties 1714, Swift's Drapier's letters, no. 4, Junius's letter no. 1, Junius's letter to the Duke of Bedford, Junius's letter to the King, Burke's Thoughts on the cause of present discontents, Burke's letters on a regicide peace no. 3; with introduction and notes; of general interest and of similar character and supplementary to the collections of Henry Morley 1890, and George Saintsbury 1892.

Roberts, Frederick Sleigh, 1st baron. Forty-one years in India.
 London Bentley N. Y. Longmans 1897. 2 v. portraits, plates, maps, O. $12.

Reminiscences of the most distinguished soldier of this generation in India. Contents: v. 1. 1852-63. v. 2. 1863-93. A most intimate view of the more important military operations, with conclusions upon the political causes and consequences of such momentous events as the Sepoy Mutiny and the second Afghan War, with appendices of documents; interesting chiefly to English readers and valuable to students of Indian history.

Fortn. 68:750 (J. M. Innes); Sat. R. 83:83 (C. W. Dilke) 84:281; Acad. 51:169 (F. A. Steele); Ed. R. 185:1; Quar. 186:552; Blackw. 161:297; Ath. 1897. 1:39,75.

Taunton, Ethelred L. English black monks of St. Benedict.
 London Nimmo N. Y. Longmans 1897. 2 v. O. $7.50.

A history of the English Benedictines 597-1897; from original sources, Reyner, etc.; with résumé of the Consuetudinary of St. Augustine's, Canterbury; of value as the only work on this subject, enthusiastic but desultory; Romanist. The best work on English monasticism in general is by T. D. Fosbroke.

Eng. Hist. R. 13:556 (M. Bateson); Dub. R. 122:439; Ath. 1898. 1:461; Am. Cath. Q. 23:442.

 London Cassell N. Y. Putnams 1893-97. 6 v. O.

A popular encyclopedic history; by specialists, of whom at least, Maitland, Saintsbury, Prothero, Oman, Bateson, Poole, Powell, Gasquet, Hall, Clowes, Mullinger, Griffiths, and Keltie are authorities; poorly edited, unequal in value, often unscholarly, and inferior in general interest to the old Pictorial History or to the illustrated Green, but exceedingly useful as a book of reference. Contents: v. 1, to 1372. v. 2, to 1509. v. 3, to 1603. v. 4, to 1714. v. 5 to 1815. v. 6, to 1885.

V. 1-3 Eng. Hist. R. 9:721; 10:359 (unfavorable); Ath. 1894. 2:489; 1895. 2:88.—v. 4. Eng. Hist. R. 11:378 (S. R. Gardiner)—v. 5. Ath. 1896. 2:153.—v. 6. Ath. 1897. 2:279. Eng. Hist. R. 13: 807 (G. W. Prothero).

Turner, B. B. Chronicles of the Bank of England.
 London Sonnenschein, 1897. 12+296 p. illus. O. 7s. 6d.

A short history of the Bank of England; by a clerk in the Bank; based upon John Francis and the Bankers' magazine; contains a summary of the history of the Bank, particularly of the history of forgeries, etc. with little about its organization or position in the monetary world; indicates among other things the relation of the Bank to the Revolution of 1688, Whig party, South Sea Bubble, '45, Loyalty Loan of 1796; of some interest to the public but of little value to the student, for whom the only good history is by John Francis 2 v. 1862. There is an important contribution to the bibliography of the subject by Thos. A. Stephens 1897.

Arch, Joseph. Story of his life told by himself; edited by the countess of Warwick.

London Hutchinson 1898. Second ed. 20+412 p. portrait, O. 12s.

Autobiography of a Liberal agitator 1826-1898; contains much relative to the history of the National Agricultural Laborers' Union, the game laws, emigration, household franchise, land question, and to the social, political and religious conditions of the laboring class; a document of the first importance, polemical; supplements Arthur Clayden "Revolt of the field" 1874, a sketch of the history of the National Agricultural Laborers' Union, and the Memoir of Arch by F. S. Attenborough.

Ath. 1898. 1:148; Sat. R. 85:114; Acad. 53:113; Spec. 80:273.

Aubrey, John. Brief lives chiefly of contemporaries set down between 1669 and 1696; edited by Andrew Clark.

Oxford Clarendon press 1898. 2 v. portrait, plates, O. 25s.

Collective biography, writers, politicians, etc. Chaucer to 1696; gives in full all in the four chief mss. of biographies, the pith of which was extracted by Wood for his Athenae; value lies in the remarkably vivid personal touches, in what Aubrey had seen himself and what his friends had told him. This edition more trustworthy than that by Philip Bliss and John Walker "Letters written by eminent men; and lives of eminent men by John Aubrey" 1813.

Eng. Hist. R. 11:328 (A. Clark), 13:787 (Douglas Maclean); Nation, 67:171; Ath. 1898. 2:150.

Clowes, William Laird and others. Royal navy.

London Sampson Low 1897-98. v. 1-2, illus. portraits, O. $6.50 each.

The most comprehensive naval history of England, to be completed in five volumes; contains 1, the civil history, 2, the military history of the navy, 3, the history of voyages and maritime discovery, with extracts from the sources, fully illustrated; of value to student and reader for reference, but uncritical and undigested;—v. 1. To 1603. Voyages and discoveries to 1485, H. W. Wilson, 1485 to 1603 Sir Clements Markham (especially valuable)—v. 2. 1603-1714. Military history of the navy 1603-49, L. Carr Laughton, voyages and discoveries 1603-1714, Sir Clements Markham.

V. 1. Eng. Hist. R. 13:342 (F. Y. Powell); Sat. R. 83:477 (P. H. Colomb); Ath. 1897. 1:569.—v. 2. Sat. R. 85:397 (P. H. Colomb); Ath. 1898. 1:683.

Corbett, Julian Stafford. Drake and the Tudor navy, with a history of the rise of England as a maritime power.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 2 v. illus. portrait, plates, O. $10.

The best and most complete biography of Drake 1540?-1596; uses the sources and latest authorities; presents Drake as an admiral and statesman as well as an explorer and pirate, with chapters on the Armada, and critical accounts of the sources; of general value both as a biography and as a history of the Elizabethan navy; supersedes John Barrow's shorter, inaccurate, and antiquated Life, 1843.

Eng. Hist. R. 13:581 (J. K. Laughton); Ath. 1898. 1:529; Nation, 66:366; Acad. 53:415.

Dearmer, Percy, editor. Religious pamphlets.
 London Kegan Paul N. Y. Holt 1898. 380 p. O. $1.75.

Contents: Wiclif, Septum hereses; Fish, Supplicacyon for beggars; Knox, Monstrous regiment of women; Cartwright, Second admonition to Parliament; Marprelate, Epitome; Nash and Lyly, Pappe with a hatchet; Almond for a parrat; Parsons, Why Catholics refuse to goe to church; Prynne, Looking-glass for lordly prelates; Bastwick, Letany; Baxter, Sheet for the ministry; Fox, Concerning the rule; Halifax, Letter to a dissenter; DeFoe, Shortest way; Leslie, Wolf stript; Swift, Abolishing of Ch'y; Law, Second letter to Bp. of Bangor; Syd. Smith; Fifth letter on Catholics; Newman, Seventh Tract for the Times. Tracts selected for style and influence; with introduction and notes; with Gee and Hardy, a useful book in a small library.

Sat. R. 85:338; Eng. Hist. R. 13:608; Acad. 53:546.

Foster, Vere. The two Duchesses: Georgiana and Elizabeth, Duchesses of Devonshire, 1777-1859.
 London Blackie 1898. 9+497 p. portraits, O. 16s.

Family correspondence of and relating to Georgiana and Elizabeth, Duchesses of Devonshire, 1777-1859; from recently discovered mss.; contains matter relative to the Earl of Bristol (Bishop of Derry), the Countess of Bristol, Lord and Lady Byron, the Earl of Aberdeen, Sir Augustus Foster, Nelson, and others; of value for light on Lord Bristol's career, but in the main of family interest simply and of little historical or literary value.

Ath. 1898. 1:242; Sat. R. 85:403; Nation 67:155; Ed. R. 188:78.

Hannay, David. Short history of the royal navy.
 London Methuen 1898. [v. 1.] O. 7s. 6d.

The best popular history; from the most accessible sources; contents: v. 1, to 1688, to be continued to 1815 in a second volume, with valuable bibliographic notes; of general value, well written and in the main trustworthy (see contra Ath. 1897. 2:879). Should supersede Hamilton Williams and E. S. Creasy.

Eng. Hist. R. 13:342 (F. Y. Powell); Nation 66:251; Acad. 52:565; Spec. 80:880.

Harris, Mary Dormer. Life in an old English town [Coventry].
 (Social England series.)
 London Sonnenschein N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 23+391 p. illus. plates, maps, fac-sim. D. $1.25.

A short history of Coventry; from official records, Leet Book, etc. Contents: the Benedictine monastery, the Chester lordship, municipal government, relations between town and commonalty, gilds, prior, earl, and king, Wars of the Roses, Lammas lands, the crafts, the markets, amusements, and religion, with concluding chapter on "How to spend a day in Coventry," and appendices descriptive of the ms. sources and a list of authorities; of general value, an interesting and scholarly supplement to Mrs. Green's work. The best history of Coventry proper is by Benj. Poole, 1870. There is a more popular history of towns by P. H. Ditchfield, 1897.

Acad. 53:624; Nation 67:37.

Markham, Christopher Alexander and Cox, J. C. editors. Records of the borough of Northampton.

London Stock 1898. 2 v. plates, fac-sim. plan in pocket, O. 42s.

V. 1. Preface by Mandell Creighton, Introduction on the history of the town, W. R. D. Adkins, Records: Domesday, Pipe Rolls, charters, letters patent, acts of parliament, Liber Custumarum, etc. Chris. A. Markham, with translations, lists, notes, and glossary. Text unreliable.

V. 2. History 1550-1835, J. C. Cox. Town muniments, government, jurisdiction, property, commons, trades, charities, churches, plagues, civil war, royal visits, members of parliament, topography; of value to the student of municipal history.

Acad. 53:416; Ath. 1898. 2:217.

Nicholls, Sir George. History of the English poor law in connection with the state of the country and the condition of the people; edited by H. G. Willink.

London King N. Y. Putnam 1898. New ed. 2 v. portrait, O. $10.

A history 924-1853; with revisions made by the author, and list of statutes cited; to be continued to the present time in a third volume, by T. Mackay; v. 1, Life of Sir George Nicholls, Introduction, History 924-1714.—v. 2, History 1714-1853. The most valuable history of the poor law; that of Richard Burn 1764 is historical material rather than history; P. F. Aschrott 1886 (German) is of greater critical value.

Ath. 1898. 1:404; Nation 66:428.

Simpson, Mrs Mary Charlotte Mair (Senior). Many memories of many people.

London Arnold 1898. Third ed. 15+334 p. O. 16s.

Memoirs 1837-64; partly reprinted from the New Review, the Liberal Unionist, and the 19th Century; from the journals and conversations of her father, Nassau William Senior; contains gossip of interest relative to Whately, De Tocqueville, Guizot, Bright, Stanley, Mrs. Grote, Jenny Lind, and nearly every woman of note of the time, with notes on political and economic questions; a valuable and interesting supplement to N. W. Senior's published conversations and journals.

Ath. 1898. 1:239; Acad. 53:282; Spee. 80:306.

Wallas, Graham. Life of Francis Place, 1771-1854.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 10+415 p. portraits, O. $4.

The biography of the "Father of electoral reform;" from the Place mss. autobiography and letter-books; describes the London Corresponding Society, Westminster elections, Benthamites, education, economics, libraries, combination laws, parliamentary reform, chartism; of interest and value for the history of early radicalism. For this it is an indispensable supplement to Webb "Trade Unionism," and Wm. Harris "Radicals in Parliament" 1885.

Am. Hist. R. 3:723 (E. Porritt); Econ. J. 8:209 (L. L. Price); Ath. 1898. 1:368; Nation 66:410.

London S. P. C. K. 1898. 6+551 p. illus. plate, O. 10s. 6d.

A manual of historical data : from the records, letter-books, reports, and minutes of the society ; throws light on the history of the Anglican church in the 18th century, education, missions, the colonies ; with extracts from the correspondence, etc. and a few illustrations ; of some value to the historian of the church and of education.

Ath. 1898. 2:315 ; Sat. R. 86:444 ; Acad. 53:574 ; Spec. 81:51.

Camperdown, Robert Adam Philips Haldane-Duncan, 3d earl of. Admiral Duncan.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 11+[2]+416 p. portraits, plan, O. $5.

The life of Adam Duncan 1746-1804 ; from official letters and orders, Lord Spencer's private letters, etc. ; gives an outline of his life and career in the navy, North Sea Squadron and struggle with France, a detailed account of the battle of Camperdown 1797, and the history of the Mutiny at Yarmouth and at the Nore from a fresh point of view ; of value as an addition to the 18th century naval biographies of Boscawen, St. Vincent, Hawke, Hood, Howe, Rodney, Collingwood, and the "Naval history" 1793-1820 by Wm. James, 6 v. 1860.

Ath. 1898. 1:457 ; Sat. R. 85:530 ; Ed. R. 188:197 ; Quar. 189:139.

Clark, Andrew. Lincoln [college]. (Oxford college histories.)

London Robinson 1898. 12+220 p. illus. plates, D. 5s.

The only history of Lincoln ; mainly from ms. sources, the college registers and muni-ments ; describes 14th century intellectual and social life in the University, etc. ; valuable especially as showing the constitutional arrangements of a pre-reformation college ; interesting and scholarly. The best short account of all the Oxford colleges was edited by Andrew Clark, 2d ed. 1892. There is a more exhaustive work extending to 1530, by H. C. M. Lyte 1886.

Ath. 1898. 2:289.

Foxcroft, H. C. Life and letters of Sir George Savile, bart.
first marquis of Halifax, with a new edition of his works.

London Longmans 1898. 2 v. portraits, genealogical table, O. $12.

The first authoritative work upon the life and writings of the Trimmer, Halifax; expanded from an article in the Eng. Hist. R. Oct. 1896; contains a critical account of the sources, the life, letters and works, Character of a Trimmer, Letter to a Dissenter, Maxims of State, etc., together with the works attributed to Halifax; of value to the student; scholarly but dry.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:166 (C. H. Firth); Sat. R. 86:508; Ath. 1898. 2:743; Ed. R. 188:386.

Gooch, George Peabody. History of English democratic ideas in the 17th century. (Cambridge historical essays, no. 10.)

Cambridge University press 1898. 8+363 p. D. 5s.

The best essay on this subject; from pamphlets, French and German critical works, etc.; discusses the origin of Puritan political ideas in Calvin, the Huguenots, the Ultramontanes; the progress of ideas from Wiclif to Owen, the Levellers, Millenarians, Constitutionalism, Socialism, Communism, Presbyterian, Independent, and Baptist politics; and the writings of Prynne, Lilburne, Harrington, Winstanley, etc.; of value to the student as history and bibliography; less interesting, but more useful than Charles Borgeaud 1894.

Am. Hist. R. 4:148 (F. Strong); Eng. Hist. R. 13:784 (S. R. Gardiner); Ath. 1898. 2:58; Nation 67:14.

Gosse, Edmund. Short history of modern English literature.

London Heinemann, N. Y. Appleton 1898. 6+1+416 p. O. $1.50.

A manual of English literature rather than of the literature of England, Chaucer to the present; describes the works of the most prominent writers, especially poets; expression, form, technique being emphasized rather than biography or sociology; of value for its critical point of view, combating the classical and individualistic schools of literary criticism in favor of a scientific evolutionary criticism of motive and circumstance; interesting and reliable.

Greswell, William Parr. Growth and administration of the British colonies, 1837-97. (Victorian era series.)

London Blackie 1898. 253 p. D. 2s. 6d.

A good history of the colonies during the Victorian era; by a specialist in colonial history; describes the factors in colonial development,—persons (Wakefield, Roebuck, Buller, Forster); societies, inventions, economic development (slave emancipation and free trade), political relations with France, Germany, etc., and constitutional growth in the American, Australian, and African colonies; of use and interest to the general reader. The best general history of the colonies is by H. E. Egerton 1897. Ath. 1898. 1:436; Sat. R. 85:558.

In 1898 appeared in the excellent "Builders of Greater Britain series" a biography of Wakefield by R. Garnett (Sat. R. 86:856); in the "Story of Empire series," "The Story of the West Indies" by Arnold Kennedy, a small book in a small series (Sat. R. 86:860).

History of the Great Northern Rail-

London Methuen 1898. 8+429 p. illus. O. 10s. 6d.

A complete account of the origin and development of the Great Northern Railway, with much about the other railways of northern England and Scotland; from personal information, the Railway Times, and Herapath's Railway Journal (not using the company records); of great value to the student, impartial and thorough but dry. The best general history of English railways is by John Pendleton, 2 v. 1894.

Ath. 1898. 1:340; Sat. R. 85:337; Acad. 53:346; Spec. 81:310.

Irving, Henry Brodribb.

Life of Judge Jeffreys.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. [9]+380 p. portraits, O. $4.

An able plea for George Jeffreys: "an attempt to reduce the monster to human proportions," from family papers, etc.; contains much relative to Scroggs, the Popish Plot, the courts of law; maintains the good birth and education and essentially Celtic character of Jeffreys, and shows him to be a man of his time; with list of authorities; of general value for its criticism of Campbell and Macaulay, and as a supplement to the somewhat antiquated life by Woolrych 1827; clever but slovenly in style.

Nation 67:207; Eng. Hist. R. 13:816 (C); Ath. 1898. 1:623; Sat. R. 85:623.

Overton, John Henry. The Anglican revival. (Victorian era ser.)

London Blackie, Chicago Stone 1898. 6+229 p. D. $1.25.

A useful history of the Victorian Church by an authority in 19th century church history; describing the Oxford Movement, its effect on the outer world, Hook and Wilberforce, the Hampden and Gorham cases, public worship; of use and interest as a continuation of the author's "English church in the 19th century" 1894 and as an introduction to R. W. Church "Oxford Movement" 1892. Should be supplemented by John Tulloch "Religious thought in Britain during the 19th century" 1895, and the biographies of Newman, Ward, Mozley, Keble, Pusey.

Lit. 2:72.

Russell, George William Erskine. Collections and recollections by one who has kept a diary.

London Smith, Elder, N. Y. Harper 1898. 9+375 p. plate, O. $2.50.

Reminiscences of the Victorian era; reprinted from the Manchester Guardian, from diary and commonplace books; contains entertaining anecdotes about Russell, Shaftesbury, Manning, Houghton, Beaconsfield, Gladstone, the Queen, etc., and about Parliament, the cabinet, and social changes; of general interest and value.

Ath. 1898. 1:783; Nation 67:36; Spec. 80:828; Acad. 53:656; Sat. R. 86:279.

History of the Great Northern Rail- (Charles H. way, 1845-52.
London: W. & A. 1868. 8+420 p. illus. O. 10s. 6d.

A complete account of the origin and development of the Great Northern Railway, with much about the other railways of north and England and Scotland; some personal information, the Railway Times, and the railway journal (not using the company records) of great value to the student, engineer, and thorough but dry. The best general history of English railways is by John Langdon, 1871-1894.
Ath. 1898. 1:340; San. K. 8:337; Acad. 5:446; Spec. 6:310.

Irving, Henry Brodribb. Life of Judge Jeffreys.
London and N. Y.: Longmans, 1898. 391+330 p. portrait, O. 2s.

An abridgement of George Jeffreys: "an attempt to reduce the monster to human proportions"; "new family papers, etc.; always much relative to George, the English Plot, the course of law, mentions the good birth and education and even the 'silly character of Jeffreys, and shows him to be a man of his time; with list of authorities; of general value for its criminal, political and historical, and as a supplement to the somewhat antiquated Hist. by Woodcock 1827; clear but somewhat in style."
Nation 6:207; Eccl. Hist. R. 1:480 (C); Ath. 1898. 1:613; San. K. 5:653.

London: W. & A. 1898. 6+220 p. 11. 2s. 6d.
A useful history of the Victorian Church, from authority in 19th century church history; reviewing the Oxford Movement, as seen on the outer world. Look and W. Robertson, the Houghton and Gordon, cases and the working of use and law as a continuation of the author's "English Church in the 19th century," 1894 and as an introduction to R. W. (1897). "Oxford Movement," 1897. Should be supplemented by John Tulloch "Religious History of Britain during the 19th century," 1864, and the biographies of Newman, H. and Wesley. London: 1897.

Russell, George William. Collections and recollections by one who has kept a diary.
London: Smith, Elder, N. Y.: Harper, 1898. 391+375 p. plate, O. 2s. 6d.

Reminiscences of the Victorian era; reprint from the Manchester Guardian, and various other sources, including the diary of George Russell, 1845-1898. The diary is a valuable source of information, especially about the Queen, etc. and about Parliament, the cabinet and social changes; of general interest and value.
Ath. 1898. 1:783; Nation 5:796; Spec. 8:858; Acad. 5:656; San. R. 8:670.

Seaton, Robert Cooper.

Sir Hudson Lowe and Napoleon.

London Nutt, N. Y. Scribner 1898.

[5]+236 p. portrait, D. $1.40.

A defense of Sir Hudson Lowe, Governor of St. Helena during the imprisonment of Napoleon; from Lowe papers, etc.; of value for its criticism of Barry O'Meara "Voice from St. Helena," republished in 1888 as "Napoleon at St. Helena," and of Whig slander and French accusations, with bibliographical list; more useful to the general reader than the exhaustive work of Wm. Forsyth "Captivity of Napoleon."

Nation, 67:116; Spec. 81:215.

Sterry, Wasey.

Annals of the King's College of Our Lady of Eton beside Windsor.

London Methuen 1898.

11+326 p. portraits, plates, fac-similes, D. 7s. 6d.

A good history of Eton, 1440-1898, from printed and MS. sources; contains little that is particularly new, but is interesting if not valuable. The authority upon this subject is H. C. Maxwell Lyte 1889. There is an Eton bibliography by L. V. Harcourt 1898. Biographies of Dr. Hawtrey and Arthur Coleridge are useful.

Ath. 1899. 1:48; Sat. R. 86:744; Nation 67:448.

Stokes, Henry Paine.
college histories.)

Corpus Christi [college]. (Cambridge

London Robinson 1898.

[5]+251 p. plates, D. 5s.

A short history of Corpus Christi from its foundation in the 14th century; from Josselyn, Masters, Lamb, Carter, Willis and Clark; gives some account of the Benedictine antiquaries, the Library, students' recreations, the masters, and Parker, but otherwise of merely local value and interest. The best history of Cambridge (to 1625) is by J. B. Mullinger 2 v. 1873-83.

Ath. 1898. 2:290; Spec. 80:697.

Young, Arthur.

Autobiography, with selections from his correspondence; edited by M. Betham-Edwards.

London Smith, Elder 1898.

10+[1]+480 p. illus. portrs. plates, fac-sim. O. 12s. 6d.

An abridged autobiography of the eminent English agriculturalist and political writer, 1741-1820; from 7 packets of MS. and 12 folio volumes of correspondence; contains correspondence with Dr. Priestley, Dr. Burney, Bentham, etc.; little about his writings, less about his travels; of value for the history of the Board of Agriculture and Commerce (supplementing the memoir of Sir John Sinclair), and of political thought during the last years of the 18th century. There is a good biography of Young as agriculturalist by John Donaldson 1854; a Young bibliography by J. P. Anderson in Young's Tour in Ireland (A. W. Hutton, editor) 2:349-374 (1892).

Econ. J. 8:367 (Henry Higgs); Eng. Hist. R. 13:797 (Jas. Bonar); Ed. R. 188:78; Ath. 1898. 1:176; Sat. R. 85:498.

A defense of Sir Hudson Lowe, Governor of St. Helena during the imprisonment of Napoleon; New Lowe papers, etc.; of value for its criticism of Bass, O'Meara, "Voice from St. Helena," etc.; in fact as "Napoleon at St. Helena," and of W. and A. Lloyd, and a more accurate, with bibliographical list; more widely to the general reader than the exhaustive work of W. and A. Lloyd, "Captivity of Napoleon."

A good history of St. Helena, 1492-1808, from printed and ms. sources; contains little that is particularly new, but is interesting if not valuable. The authority upon the subject is St. Helena, 1808. There is an St. Helena bibliography by L. V. Hancock, 1898. Biographies of St. Helena and Arthur Colclough are useful.

A short history of Corpus Christi from its foundation in the 14th century; New Corpus Christi, Masters, Lamb, Carter, Willis and Clark; gives some account of the French line and the library, students' residences, the masters and monks, but otherwise of merely local interest and interest. The best history of Cambridge (to 1827) is by J. H. Mullinger, 1877.

An abridged autobiography of the eminent English agriculturalist and political writer 1741-1820; New 7 papers of ms. and 12 folio volumes of correspondence; contains correspondence with Dr. Priestley, Dr. Burney, Benjamin Franklin, etc.; little about his business, less about his

Allen, William Osborn Bird and McClure, Edmund. Two hundred years: the history of the Society for promoting Christian knowledge 1698-1898.

London S. P. C. K. 1898. 6+551 p. illus. plate, O. 10s. 6d.

A manual of historical data; from the records, letter-books, reports, and minutes of the society; throws light on the history of the Anglican church in the 18th century, education, missions, the colonies; with extracts from the correspondence, etc. and a few illustrations; of some value to the historian of the church and of education.

Ath. 1898. 2:315. Sat. R. 86:444; Acad. 53:574; Spec. 81:51.

Camperdown, Robert Adam Philips Haldane-Duncan, 3d earl of. Admiral Duncan.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 11+[2]+416 p. portraits, plan, O. $5.

The life of Adam Duncan 1746-1804; from official letters and orders, Lord Spencer's private letters, etc.; gives an outline of his life and career in the navy, North Sea Squadron, and struggle with France, a detailed account of the battle of Camperdown 1797, and the history of the Mutiny at Yarmouth and at the Nore from a fresh point of view; of value as an addition to the 18th century naval biographies of Boscawen, St. Vincent, Hawke, Hood, Howe, Rodney, Collingwood, and the "Naval history" 1793-1820 by Wm. James, 6 v. 1860.

Ath. 1898. 1:457; Sat. R. 85:530; Ed. R. 188:197; Quar. 189:139.

Clark, Andrew. Lincoln [college]. (Oxford college histories.)

London Robinson 1898. 12+220 p. illus. plates, D. 5s.

The only history of Lincoln; mainly from MS. sources, the college registers and muniments; describes 14th century intellectual and social life in the University, etc.; valuable especially as showing the constitutional arrangements of a pre-reformation college; interesting and scholarly. The best short account of all the Oxford colleges was edited by Andrew Clark, 2d ed. 1892. There is a more exhaustive work extending to 1530, by H. C. M. Lyte 1886.

Ath. 1898. 2:289.

Foxcroft, H. C. Life and letters of Sir George Savile, bart. first marquis of Halifax, with a new edition of his works.

London Longmans 1898. 2 v. portraits, genealogical table, O. $12.

The first authoritative work upon the life and writings of the Trimmer, Halifax; expanded from an article in the Eng. Hist. R. Oct. 1896; contains a critical account of the sources, the life, letters and works, Character of a Trimmer, Letter to a Dissenter, Maxims of State, etc., together with the works attributed to Halifax; of value to the student; scholarly but dry.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:166 (C. H. Firth); Sat. R. 86:508. Ath. 1898. 2:743; Ed. R. 188:386.

Gooch, George Peabody. History of English democratic ideas in the 17th century. (Cambridge historical essays, no. 10.)

Cambridge University press 1898. 8+363 p. D. 5s.

The best essay on this subject; from pamphlets, French and German critical works, etc.; discusses the origin of Puritan political ideas in Calvin, the Huguenots, the Ultramontanes; the progress of ideas from Wiclif to Owen, the Levellers, Millenarians, Constitutionalism, Socialism, Communism, Presbyterian, Independent, and Baptist politics; and the writings of Prynne, Lilburne, Harrington, Winstanley, etc.; of value to the student as history and bibliography; less interesting, but more useful than Charles Borgeaud 1894.

Am. Hist. R. 4:148 (F. Strong); Eng. Hist. R. 13:784 (S. R. Gardiner); Ath. 1898. 2:58. Nation 67:14.

Gosse, Edmund. Short history of modern English literature.

London Heinemann, N. Y. Appleton 1898. 6+1+416 p. O. $1.50.

A manual of English literature rather than of the literature of England, Chaucer to the present; describes the works of the most prominent writers, especially poets; expression, form, technique being emphasized rather than biography or sociology; of value for its critical point of view, combating the classical and individualistic schools of literary criticism in favor of a scientific evolutionary criticism of motive and circumstance; interesting and reliable.

Greswell, William Parr. Growth and administration of the British colonies, 1837-97. (Victorian era series.)

London Blackie 1898. 253 p. D. 2s. 6d.

A good history of the colonies during the Victorian era; by a specialist in colonial history; describes the factors in colonial development,—persons (Wakefield, Roebuck, Buller, Forster); societies, inventions, economic development (slave emancipation and free trade), political relations with France, Germany, etc., and constitutional growth in the American, Australian, and African colonies; of use and interest to the general reader. The best general history of the colonies is by H. E. Egerton 1897. Ath. 1898. 1:436; Sat. R. 85:558.

In 1898 appeared in the excellent "Builders of Greater Britain series" a biography of Wakefield by R. Garnett (Sat. R. 86:856); in the "Story of Empire series," "The Story of the West Indies" by Arnold Kennedy, a small book in a small series (Sat. R. 86:860).

Grinling, Charles H. History of the Great Northern Railway, 1845-95.

London Methuen 1898. 8+429 p. illus. O. 10s. 6d.

A complete account of the origin and development of the Great Northern Railway, with much about the other railways of northern England and Scotland; from personal information, the Railway Times, and Herapath's Railway Journal (not using the company records); of great value to the student, impartial and thorough but dry. The best general history of English railways is by John Pendleton 2 v. 1894.

Ath. 1898. 1:340; Sat. R. 85:337; Acad. 53:346; Spec. 81:310.

Irving, Henry Brodribb. Life of Judge Jeffreys.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. [9]+380 p. portraits, O. $4.

An able plea for George Jeffreys: "an attempt to reduce the monster to human proportions;" from family papers, etc.; contains much relative to Scroggs, the Popish Plot, the courts of law; maintains the good birth and education and essentially Celtic character of Jeffreys, and shows him to be a man of his time; with list of authorities; of general value for its criticism of Campbell and Macaulay, and as a supplement to the somewhat antiquated life by Woolrych 1827; clever but slovenly in style.

Nation 67:207; Eng. Hist. R. 13:816 (C). Ath. 1898. 1:623; Sat. R. 85:623.

Overton, John Henry. The Anglican revival. (Victorian era ser.)

London Blackie, Chicago Stone 1898. 6+229 p. D. $1.25.

A useful history of the Victorian Church by an authority in 19th century church history; describing the Oxford Movement, its effect on the outer world, Hook and Wilberforce, the Hampden and Gorham cases, public worship; of use and interest as a continuation of the author's "English church in the 19th century" 1894, and as an introduction to R. W. Church "Oxford Movement" 1892. Should be supplemented by John Tulloch "Religious thought in Britain during the 19th century" 1895, and the biographies of Newman, Ward, Mozley, Keble, Pusey.

Lit. 272.

Russell, George William Erskine. Collections and recollections by one who has kept a diary.

London Smith, Elder, N. Y. Harper 1898. 9+375 p. plate, O. $2.50.

Reminiscences of the Victorian era; reprinted from the Manchester Guardian, from diary and commonplace books; contains entertaining anecdotes about Russell, Shaftesbury, Manning, Houghton, Beaconsfield, Gladstone, the Queen, etc., and about Parliament, the cabinet, and social changes; of general interest and value.

Ath. 1898. 1:783; Nation 67:36; Spec. 80:828; Acad. 53:656; Sat. R. 86:279.

Seaton, Robert Cooper. Sir Hudson Lowe and Napoleon.

London Nutt, N. Y. Scribner 1898. [5]+236 p. portrait, D. $1.40

A defense of Sir Hudson Lowe, Governor of St. Helena during the imprisonment of Napoleon; from Lowe papers, etc.; of value for its criticism of Barry O'Meara "Voice from St. Helena," republished in 1888 as "Napoleon at St. Helena," and of Whig slander and French accusations, with bibliographical list; more useful to the general reader than the exhaustive work of Wm. Forsyth "Captivity of Napoleon."

Nation, 67:116; Spec. 81:215.

Sterry, Wasey. Annals of the King's College of Our Lady of Eton beside Windsor.

London Methuen 1898. 11+326 p. portraits, plates, fac-similes, D. 7s. 6d.

A good history of Eton, 1440-1898, from printed and ms. sources; contains little that is particularly new, but is interesting if not valuable. The authority upon this subject is H. C. Maxwell Lyte 1889. There is an Eton bibliography by L. V. Harcourt 1898. Biographies of Dr. Hawtrey and Arthur Coleridge are useful.

Ath. 1899. 1:48; Sat. R. 86:744; Nation 67:448.

Stokes, Henry Paine. Corpus Christi [college]. (Cambridge college histories.)

London Robinson 1898. [5]+251 p. plates, D. 5s.

A short history of Corpus Christi from its foundation in the 14th century; from Josselyn, Masters, Lamb, Carter, Willis and Clark; gives some account of the Benedictine antiquaries, the Library, students' recreations, the masters, and Parker, but otherwise of merely local value and interest. The best history of Cambridge (to 1625) is by J. B. Mullinger 2 v. 1873-83.

Ath. 1898. 2:290; Spec. 80:697.

Young, Arthur. Autobiography, with selections from his correspondence; edited by M. Betham-Edwards.

London Smith, Elder 1898. 10+[1]+480 p. illus. portrs. plates, fac-sim. O. 12s. 6d.

An abridged autobiography of the eminent English agriculturalist and political writer, 1741-1820; from 7 packets of ms. and 12 folio volumes of correspondence; contains correspondence with Dr. Priestley, Dr. Burney, Bentham, etc.; little about his writings, less about his travels; of value for the history of the Board of Agriculture and Commerce (supplementing the memoir of Sir John Sinclair), and of political thought during the last years of the 18th century. There is a good biography of Young as agriculturalist by John Donaldson 1854; a Young bibliography by J. P. Anderson in Young's Tour in Ireland (A. W. Hutton, editor) 2:349-374 (1892).

Econ. J. 8:367 (Henry Higgs); Eng. Hist. R. 13:797 (Jas. Bonar); Ed. R. 188:78. Ath. 1898. 1:176; Sat. R. 85:498.

----------	---------------------	-----------

Abbott, Edwin Abbott. St. Thomas of Canterbury, his death and miracles.

London Black, N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 2 v. O. $7.50.

A critical discussion of the Becket miracles, and of the early accounts of the murder and miracles; a valuable study of mediaeval religious thought, and a good supplement to such works as "The life and miracles of St. William of Norwich by Thomas of Monmouth," edited by A. Jessopp 1896. The best biography of Becket is by John Morris, S. J. 1885. There is a readable Protestant account by J. A. Froude 1878.

Church Q. 47:435; Sat. R. 87:115; Ath. 1899. 1:74.

Brooke, Stopford Augustus. English literature from the beginning to the Norman conquest.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 9+338 p. D. $1.50.

A readable manual, abridged, re-written, and re-arranged from the author's "History of early English literature," which was a history of English poetry to the accession of King Alfred; with a bibliographical note; of interest and value to the general reader, but less satisfactory than the little work by John Earle, 1884, or the critical work by Wülker "Grundriss zur Geschichte der angel-sächsischen Litteratur. Wülker's edition of Grein's Bibliothek der angel-sächsischen Poesie" 3 v. 1883-97 contains the complete text of all the old English poetry. A study of Aelfric by Caroline L. White, Boston 1898, may be noted.

Ath. 1898. 2:746.

Fairfield, Charles. Some account of George William Wilshire, Baron Bramwell of Hever, and his opinions.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 4+382 p. portrait, O. $4.

A valuable account of the public career and opinions of Lord Bramwell, Baron of the Exchequer 1856-86; contains much of interest and value about the history of law and the court of Exchequer, political economy and free trade, political science and socialism, the Liberal party, and the Irish and temperance questions, with few personalities; it is rather material for the history of thought during the latter part of the 19th century than a biography, but will be of value to the thoughtful reader.

Grafton, Augustus Henry Fitzroy, 3d duke of. Autobiography and political correspondence; edited by Sir Wm. R. Anson.

London Murray 1898. 41+417 p. portraits, O. 18s.

The first adequate account of the political career of Grafton, First Lord of the Treasury and Prime Minister 1767-70; presents material of importance for the history of these years; of value to the student for its corrections of misrepresentations of Junius and Walpole; supplemented by "A narrative of the changes in the ministry 1765-67 told by the Duke of Newcastle," edited by Mary Bateson, Royal Historical Society 1898.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:378 (B. Williams); Ed. R. 189:489; Quar. 189:219; Ath. 1898. 2:599; Sat. R. 86:646.

Hume, Martin Andrew Sharp. The great Lord Burghley, a study in Elizabethan statecraft.

London Nisbet, N. Y. Longmans 1898. 15+511 p. portrait, O. 12s. 6d. $3.50.

A biographical study of William Cecil 1520-1598, prime minister of Queen Elizabeth; from printed, calendared, and uncalendared sources; presents Cecil as statesman rather than religious reformer; a valuable study of Elizabethan foreign policy, and the most valuable biography of Burghley, but heavy reading and inadequate. Most of the Cecil Papers are generally accessible in the printed collections of Haynes 1740, Wm. Murdin 1759, and Edw. Nares, 3 v. 1828-31.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:162 (A. F. Pollard); Ath. 1898. 2:885 (unfav.); Sat. R. 86:854.

Lee, Sidney. Life of William Shakespeare.

London, Smith, Elder, N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 25+476 p. portraits, facsimiles, D. $1.75

The authoritative guide to the life of Shakespeare; an elaboration of the article in the Dictionary of national biography, and the outcome of 18 years study of Elizabethan history and literature; presents a full record of the attested facts of Shakespeare's career and achievements, with new light on the composition of "Love's Labor's Lost," and the "Merchant of Venice," relations with Ben Jonson, financial affairs, and portraits; rejects the sonnets as autobiographical material; with valuable notes on the sources, the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy, the Earl of Southampton, and the Elizabethan sonnet; the imaginative work of Georg Brandes may be compared with this; the documentary materials may be found in Halliwell-Phillips.

Sat. R. 86:884; Critic, 34:154 (W. J. Rolfe).

Maitland, Frederic William. Township and borough.

Cambridge University press, N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 9+220 p. plate, 2 maps, O. 10s. $2.75.

A scholarly monograph upon the history of Cambridge as a village community, being the University of Oxford Ford Lectures for 1897; from old materials and new, using Gierke; emphasizes the rustic basis of the borough, its position as centre of the shire, and the differentiation of corporateness from "commonness;" with an appendix of notes relating to the history of the town of Cambridge; of interest and great value to students; supplementary to the raw material in C. H. Cooper's "Annals of Cambridge."

Eng. Hist. R. 14:344 (J. Tait); Am. Hist. R. 4:143 (C. Gross); Pol. Sci. Q. 13:707 (C. M. Andrews); J. Pol. Econ. 6:577 (F. A. C.); Ath. 1898. 1:624; Nation, 66:506.

Morris, William O'Connor. Ireland 1798-1898.

London Innes 1898. 21+376 p. O. 10s. 6d.

A useful summary of the history of Ireland in the 19th century; by an Irish landlord and historical scholar; contains in addition to the brief narrative a very useful essay, in the Preface, upon the sources and authorities for the history of this period; of some interest and value to the general reader; to be compared with the histories by the Home Rulers Wm. J. O. Daunt 2 v. 1886, and J. H. McCarthy 1887, and the political treatises by the Home Ruler R. Barry O'Brien, and the Unionists A. V. Dicey and Sir Gavan Duffy.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:176 (G. H. Orpen); Ath. 1898. 2:151 (unfav.).

O'Brien, Richard Barry. Life of Charles Stewart Parnell 1846-91.

London Smith, Elder, N. Y. Harpers 1898. 2 v. portr. fac-sim. O. $2.50.

A memoir of the great Irish Home Ruler; by a follower; contains much relative to the history of the Land League and the Home Rule movement; of great value, though partisan; very well written. May be supplemented by T. P. O'Connor "The Parnell Movement" 1890, and J. Henri Cribier "Parnell et l'Irlande pendant la période aiguë de la crise agraire" 1882.

Ath. 1898. 2:667; Nation 68:106, 123; Westm. R. 151:1; Ed. R. 189:543.

Parkin, George Robert. Edward Thring, headmaster of Uppingham school, life, diary and letters.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 2 v. portraits, O. $7.

A biography of the eminent English educator, Edward Thring 1821-1887; by a disciple; contains with the diary and letters of Thring, much relative to school and educational conditions and theories about the middle of the century; of greater value to the student than the sketch by John H. Skrine 1889, but less interesting. A brief description of education during the 19th century by Graham Balfour "Educational systems of Great Britain and Ireland" 1898, may be noted.

Educa. R. 17:456; Church. Q. 48:79; Ath. 1898. 2:565; Sat. R. 86:612; Nation, 68:283.

Ramsay, Sir James Henry. Foundations of England B. C. 55- A. D. 1154.

London Sonnenschein, N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 2 v. illus. maps, O. $7.50.

A good book of reference for early English history; by a specialist in English mediaeval history; presents in a convenient form the more important results of recent work in that subject, is particularly full upon the side of military history; with list of authorities; like C. H. Pearson "History of England during the early and middle ages" 2 v. 1867 (to 1307), of temporary value; in the main reliable but dry.

Pol. Sci. Q. 14:144 (C. Gross); Ath. 1898. 2:859; Sat. R. 86:855; Nation, 68:320.

Rose, John Holland. Rise and growth of democracy in Great Britain. (Victorian era ser.)

Chicago Stone 1898. 8+252 p. D. $1.25.

A useful account of the rise of English radicalism; by a specialist in modern history; describes the history of Chartism, the Reform Bills, etc., professedly from the point of view of the workman's club rather than of the lobby of St. Stephens; of some value to the general reader, clear, suggestive, and superior to Edw. Smith "English Jacobins," and J. B. Daly "Radical pioneers of the 18th century" 1886, reprinted as "Dawn of Radicalism" 1892. More able treatment of phases of this subject may be found in "Political defects of the old radicalism" by Wm. Clarke, Pol. Sci. Q. 14:69, and in the biographies of Francis Place, Thos. Atwood and others.

Acad. 53:307; Sat. R. 85:663 (unfav.).

Saintsbury, George. Short history of English literature.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 20+819 p. D. $1.50

The most readable manual of English literature, from the earliest times to the present; by an authority; presents the chronological facts, with interchapters devoted to generalization; written from the literary rather than the historical or pedagogical point of view; of general value, suggestive but inaccurate. Of two other good works of this class Austin Dobson 1897 is better for mere reference, Henry Morley 1873, for history.

Ath. 1898. 2:746; Sat. R. 86:738 (unfav.).

Strutt, Joseph. Sports and pastimes of the people of England . . . from the earliest period; edited by William Hone.

London Chatto 1898. New edition. 12+530 p. illus. plate, D. 3s. 6d.

Reprint of the edition of 1826 (original 1801); describes the old English sports of hunting, hawking, horse-racing, archery, tournaments, miracle-plays, minstrelsy, dancing, baiting, holiday sports, etc.; of general interest and value. There is a shorter book on holiday sports by P. H. Ditchfield 1891, an elaborate work on children's games by Alice B. Gomme 1894 (Dictionary of British Folklore), besides the special histories of horse-racing by Christie Whyte, by J. Rice 1879, J. P. Hore 1886, Rob. Black 1893, of miracle plays by A. W. Pollard 1895 and Sidney W. Clarke 1897, of archery by G. A. Hansard 1841, of pageants by F. W. Fairholt 1844.

Vibart, Edward. Sepoy mutiny as seen by a subaltern from Delhi to Lucknow.

London, Smith, Elder, N. Y. Scribner 1898. 10+308 p. portraits, plates, plan, O. 7s. 6d.

A soldier's memoir of the Indian Mutiny of 1857; reprinted in part from the Cornhill Magazine, from an article by P. V. Luke in the Macmillan Magazine, and from A. R. D. Mackenzie's "Mutiny Memoirs" 1891; adds little that is new, but is of interest. Two other books of the year may be put beside this: W. Gordon-Alexander "Recollections of a Highland Subaltern" (Ath. 1899. 1:271), and two anglicized "Native narratives of the mutiny" edited by C. T. Metcalfe (Ath. 1898. 2:245). The best history of the Mutiny is that by T. R. Holmes; the most complete chronicle that by Sir John Kaye and G. B. Malleeson, 6v. 1864-80.

Ath. 1899. 1:271; Spec. 82:273.

Addy, Sidney Oldall. Evolution of the English house. (Social England series).

London Sonnenschein N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 28+223 p. illus. plate, D. $1.50.

A monograph upon the mediaeval history of the English house; from such works as Konrad Lange "Haus und Halle" 1885, Anderson "Scotland in early Christian times" 1881, Stokes "Early Christian architecture in Ireland" 1878, and O'Curry "Ancient Irish," 3 v. 1873; describes the underground house, the round house, the rectangular house, manor house, town house, castle, church, with list of authorities; the best short history of this subject altho somewhat technical and written by the comparative method. The most elaborate work upon the subject is by T. H. Turner and J. H. Parker "Domestic architecture in England" 1066-1485, 3 v. in 4, 1851-59.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:588 (Edith Thompson); Nation 68:336.

Ashbourne, Edward Gibson, 1st baron. Pitt: some chapters of his life and times.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 14+395 p. portraits, O. $6.

Studies in the life and times of William Pitt 1759-1806; from new materials among the Bolton Papers, the Pitt Papers, and the Stanhope Collection; contains new light on the events which led up to the Union of 1800 and the failure of Pitt's Irish policy,—Rutland, Orde, and the Commercial Resolution of 1785, the Fitzwilliam vice-royalty of 1795, Lord Clare, Lord chancellor; together with chapters on Pitt's youth, relations with his mother, his one love story, and his relations with his first biographer, Bp. Tomline; of value, especially to the student; supplements T. D. Ingram "History of the Union" 1887, and Stanhope's standard biography of Pitt, 2d. ed. 4 v. 1862.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:574 (R. Dunlop); Am. Hist. R. 4:527 (Goldwin Smith); Qu. R. 189:359; Ath. 1898. 2:531,919.

Cadell, Sir Robert. Sir John Cope and the Rebellion of 1745.

Edinburgh Blackwood 1898. 12+[2]+282 p. map, plan, O.

A defense of Sir John Cope, commander of the English forces in Scotland in 1745; by a military authority; from hitherto unused "Proceedings of the Trial of Sir John Cope"; presents a good account of the battle of Prestonpans and Cope's responsibility, with criticism of Philip Doddridge's life of Col. James Gardiner, 1747, and the Narrative of Murray of Broughton, and list of authorities; of value to the student. Alex. C. Ewald "Life and times of Prince Charles Stuart" 1875, 1883, is the best work upon this subject. Walter B. Blaikie "Itinerary of Prince Charles Edward Stuart," Scot. Hist. Soc. 1897, is the most reliable chronological outline and guide. Robert Chamber's popular Jacobite story 1828, and the contemporary Henderson's Prince Frederick-Whig account may be noted as partial but interesting.

A useful history of British navigation from the earliest times to the present day; from the "British Merchant Service Journal," the records of the steamship companies, etc.; contains a sketch of the development of the art of navigation, the rise of the most important merchant lines—Cunard, P. and O., Royal Mail, Orient, etc., of light-houses, Lloyd's, etc., together with the chief incidents in the history of navigation; especially valuable for 19th century history; to be supplemented by George Cawston "Early chartered companies" 1896, Henry Fry "History of North Atlantic steam navigation" 1896, A. Frazer-Macdonald "Our ocean railways" 1893, and by the histories of commerce and the navy.

Ath. 1898 2:896.

Lang, Andrew. Companions of Pickle.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 9+[2]+308 p. portraits, O. $5.

A sequel to "Pickle the Spy," a character of the Rebellion of 1745; from the Cumberland Papers, Windsor, the Glengarry Ms. Letter-Book, the John Macdonell memoirs, etc.; contains biographical studies of some of the Jacobite followers of Prince Charles, the Earl Marischal, George Keith, John Murray of Broughton, Arch. MacDonell of Barisdale, showing the treachery of all but the first, presenting new evidence identifying Glengarry with Pickle the Spy, and giving some account of the social condition of the Highlands consequent upon the fall of the clan system. Note also the publication of the "Memorials of John Murray of Broughton, sometime secretary to Prince Charles Edward 1740-47," Rob't F. Bell, ed. Scot. Hist. Soc. 1898.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:400; Ath. 1898. 2:825; Nation 68:172.

Laughton, John Knox. Memoirs of the life and correspondence of Henry Reeve.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1898. 2v. portraits, O. $8.

A biography of Henry Reeve 1813-95, editor of the Edinburgh Review 1855-95; from a "Chronology of my life," a voluminous correspondence, etc.; contains little about the Review, but much about European and especially French politics, the Eastern question, and the Crimean war; gives early letters to his mother, but few, of later letters to friends, and letters from Guizot, Lord Clarendon, Brougham, etc.; of general interest and value.

Ath. 1898. 2:479; Sat. R. 86:507; Nation 68:130; Church Q. 47:406; Yale R. 7:459 (E. Porritt); Blackw. 164:682.

Selborne, Roundell Palmer, 1st earl.
Personal and political, 1865-95.

Memorials. Part 2.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1898. 2v. portraits, O. 21s.

An autobiography of the Earl of Selborne, Lord Chancellor, in continuation of the "Memorials: Family and personal 1766-1865," 2v. 1896; from family letters and papers; describes his attitude as a high churchman toward church questions, and as an independent conservative toward political questions, with chapters of importance on Judicature reform, Parliamentary reform, Disestablishment, Irish affairs, the Treaty of Washington and Geneva arbitration, the Eastern question in Turkey and in Egypt, the Transvaal; of general value and interest.

Church Q. 48:54; Ath. 1898. 2:821; Sat. R. 86:788; Scot. R. 34:39 (W. O'Connor Morris).

Solly, Henry Shaen.

Life of Henry Morley.

London Arnold 1898. 12+410 p. portrait, O. 12s. 6d.

The authorized life of Henry Morley 1822-1894, teacher of English literature; from family papers and mostly in his own words; describes his journalistic career as contributor to Household Words, the Examiner, etc., his work as professor of the English language and literature at King's College, and at University College, London, and as editor of various "Libraries" of English literature; of value to the student.

Ath. 1898. 2:633; Acad. 55:326 (Portr.).

Wilmot, Sydney Marow Eardleymund, Lord Lyons.

Life of Vice-admiral Ed-

London Low 1898. 14+437 p. portraits, plates, maps, O. 21s.

A biography of Edmund, Lord Lyons 1790-1858, Commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean station 1855-58; from an immense mass of correspondence hitherto unused; contains chapters upon Lyons' diplomatic career, particularly the Greek mission of 1835, and upon his naval career, especially in the Crimean War 1854-56, with some account of the change in warships entailed by the introduction of steam; of value as a supplement to the standard history of the Crimea by Kinglake, who in 1873 failed to get access to Sir Edmund's papers, and to the naval histories of the period, Sir Aug. Phillimore "Sir Wm. Parker" 3v. 1876-80, and John H. Briggs "Naval administrations 1827-92" 1897.

Baldock, Thomas Stanford. Cromwell as a soldier. (Wolseley series.)

London Kegan Paul 1899. 15+538 p. maps, plans, O. 15s.

A military biography of Cromwell; by a military expert from printed sources; contains the best general account of Cromwell's campaigns, and of the science and art of war in England in the middle of the 17th century; of great value to the military student and historian. The German work of Fritz Hoenig 2 v. 1887-88, is more detailed but less reliable, that of W. G. Ross 1889 is mainly a discussion of the Squire Papers, which Hoenig used [Eng. Hist. R. 4:571 (C. Oman); 5:597 (C. H. Firth)]. The special historical narratives, of the Irish campaign by Denis Murphy 1883, and of the Scotch campaign by W. S. Douglass 1898, may be noted, also N. L. Walford "Parliamentary generals of the great civil war" 1886.

Eng. Hist. R. 14:569 (S. R. Gardiner); Ath. 1899. 2:29; Nation 69:232.

Butler, Sir William Francis. Life of Sir George Pomeroy-Colley, 1835-81.

London Murray 1899. 7+431 p. portraits, plates, maps, O. 21s.

A good biography of the British African soldier and administrator; describes his career in China 1860, in Ashanti 1873, in India 1877, and in South Africa, against the Kaffirs 1854 and against the Boers 1879; interesting to the student of imperial conquest and administration; supplemented by Henry Brackenbury "Narrative of the Ashanti war" 2 v. 1874, Thomas F. Carter "Narrative of the Boer war 1880-81" 1883, and Wm. H. P. Greswell "Our South African Empire" 2 v. 1895, and the standard histories of George M. Theal.

Ath. 1899. 1:135.

Cutts, Edward Lewes. Parish priests and their people in the middle ages in England.

London S. P. C. K. 1898. 17+579 p. illus. plates, D. 7s. 6d.

A popular account of the mediæval parish church; from numerous, chiefly printed, sources; describes the priest, his education, duties, dress, the parsonage and its furniture, the church fabric and service, and the relations between parish and monastery, and parish and cathedral, chantries, gilds, etc., with numerous illustrations from ms. sources; of general interest and value.

Acad. 55:69; Literature 3:491.

Henderson, Bernard William. Merton college. (Oxford college histories.)

London Robinson 1899. 16+304 p. illus. plates, D. 5s.

A good account of Merton 1264-1898; uses W. H. Stevenson's "Calendar of Merton Records" and ms. sources; contains a history of the college (p. 1-179), and a description of the college (p. 179-283), with list of authorities (p. 283-5); of value to the student of college history as a supplement to the longer and standard work of George C. Brodrick "Memorials of Merton" Oxford Hist. Soc. 1885. See also the detailed and interesting account of the early history of the college in Edm. Hobhouse "Life of Walter de Merton" 1859.

Ath. 1899. 1:654; Sat. R. 87:628.

Knapp, William Ireland. Life, writings, and correspondence of George Borrow.

London Murray, N. Y. Putnam's 1899. 2 v. illus. portraits, plates, plans, O. 32s. $6.

The authoritative biography of George Borrow 1803-1881, English author, traveller, linguist; from ms. and other sources; describes his strange character and stranger adventures, among gypsies, Russians, Spaniards, the influence of William Taylor, etc.; from the point of view of an admirer; of interest to the curious and of value to the student of literature. Borrow's autobiographies, entitled "Lavengro" and "The Romany Rye" should be noted.

Ath. 1899. 1:332; Sat. R. 87:372; Critic 34:430 (illus.); Blackw. 165:724 (unfav.); Quar. 189:472.

Leach, Arthur Francis. A history of Winchester college. (English public schools.)

London Duckworth, N. Y. Scribner's 1899. 14+564 p. illus. plates, D. $1.50.

The best general history of Winchester college, the mother of schools, 1382-1899; from Kirby, Adams, and original sources; of some historical value; more interesting than T. F. Kirby's antiquarian "Annals" 1892, less interesting than Henry C. Adams "Wykehamica" 1878, a memorial rather than a history. See also M. E. C. Walcott "William of Wykeham" 1852, for the early history, and C. W. Holgate's invaluable contributions to the history of the school, the "Long Rolls 1653-1721," and the "Commoners."

Ath. 1899. 1:748; Nation 69:133.

Mackail, John William. Life of William Morris.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1899. 2 v. portraits, plates, O. $7.50, net.

The authorized biography of William Morris 1834-1896, poet, artist, artizan, socialist; by a friend; describes fully his character and career, with much relative to the history of Pre-Raphaelitism, Ritualism, the Democratic Federation, and the Socialist League; of greatest interest and value. See also S. C. Cockerell "History of the Kelmscott press," H. B. Forman "Books of Wm. Morris" 1897, Aymer Vallance "Art of Wm. Morris" 1897, Percy H. Bate "History of the Pre-Raphaelite movement" 1899, and lives of Rossetti and Burne-Jones.

Ath. 1899. 1:587; Critic 35:620 (J. L. G. illus.); Sat. R. 87:788; Nation, 69:228; Blackw. 66:16.

Mends, Bowen Stilon. Life of Admiral Sir William Robert Mends.

London Murray 1899. 16+380 p. portraits, plates, plans, map, O. 16s.

The biography of William Robert Mends 1812-1897, commander in the Crimea; by his son; contains little about his private character and home life, but throws much light on the mismanagement of the Crimean campaign (p. 109-321), and on the development of the Admiralty Transport Department; not of general interest but of great value to the historian.

Sat. R. 87:659.

Peel, Sir Robert. From his private correspondence; edited by Charles S. Parker.

London Murray 1891-1899. 3 v. illus. portraits, plate, O.

The authorized biography of Peel 1788-1850, conservative prime minister and statesman; from papers now first published; contains a documentary history of his party and his times, a vindication of Peel. These Letters, together with the Speeches 4 v. 1853, and Memoirs 2 v. 1856-57, are the most valuable sources for the life of Peel. Of the biographies that by W. C. Taylor and Charles Mackay 4 v. 1846-50, is the most extensive compilation. There is little choice among the numerous short popular lives.

Quar. 189:364; Ed. R. 189:285; Am. Hist. R. 4:721 (E. Porritt); Ath. 1899. 1:169; Sat. R. 87:179.

Quick, Robert Herbert. Life and remains; edited by Francis Storr.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1899. 7+544 p. portrait, D. $1.50.

A good biography of R. H. Quick, 1831-1891, schoolmaster and educational writer; from 40 note-books, etc.; describes Quick's life and character, presents, from his commonplace books, material illustrative of the history of teaching and educational theory during the last thirty years, particularly observations upon books, the training of teachers, and the practice of examinations; of greatest interest and value, especially to educators. Upon the general subject there is a good little history by Henry Holman "English national education, a sketch of the rise of public elementary schools in England" (1839-1898) 1898.

Ath. 1899. 2:59; Nation 69:156.

Robertson, Charles Grant. All Souls. (Oxford college histories.)

London Robinson 1899. 16+234 p. plates, D. 5s.

A good history of All Souls 1433-1898, the graduate school of Oxford; from ms. sources; contains an interesting description of the 16th century college, and of the constitutional development of the 19th century college; of general interest and value; may be supplemented by Montagu Burrows "Worthies of All Souls" 1874, the standard history of the college.

Ath. 1899. 2:247; Sat. R. 87:693.

Scott, Eva. Rupert Prince Palatine.

Westminster Constable, N. Y. Putnam's 1899. 7+381 p. portraits, O. $3.50.

The best biography of Rupert 1619-1682, Royalist general; from Bromley Letters 1787, Pythouse Papers 1879, and ms. sources; contains a vindication of the character and career of Rupert, with much relating to the Civil War and the navy during the middle of the 17th century; interesting and valuable. Eliot Warburton's extensive compilation 3 v. 1849 is still of use, but only for its documentary contents. The works of Coindet 1854 and A. von Treskow 1857, based upon Warburton, and of K. von Spruner 1854, are suggestive. Ronald Gower, 1890, is valueless.

Fisher, George William. Annals of Shrewsbury School. Revised by J. S. Hill.

London Methuen 1899. 13+[1]+508 p. portraits, plates. 10s. 6d.

A substantial history of Shrewsbury School, 1556-1899, the old school of North-Western England; based upon E. Calvert "Regestum scholarium, 1562-1635", for the earlier period, the "Life and letters of Dr. Samuel Butler", 1896, for the later period, and other sources; contains an account of the administrations of the successive Head Masters, with little about school studies or life; of interest to Salopians and of value to the historian of English education.

Ath. 1899. 2:381; Sat. R. 88:301.

Gosse, Edmund. Life and letters of John Donne.

N. Y. Dodd, Mead, London Heinemann 1899. 2 v. portraits, plates, facsimiles, O. $8.

The first full biography of Donne, 1573-1631, "a celebrated poet and the greatest preacher of his age"; from hitherto unused sources, etc.; describes Donne as a man and as an author, shows the influence of Spanish literature, has little about contemporaries; of such value that we may follow Donne's career more minutely than that of any other Elizabethan or Jacobean man of letters, except, perhaps, Bacon: but reliable. See also the valuable study of Donne as a preacher by Augustus Jessopp, 1897, the little classic by Isaac Walton, and Gosse's "Jacobean Poets", 1894 (University extension manuals).

Ath. 1899. 2:645; Nation 70:111, 133 (unfav.).

Lovett, Richard.
1795-1895.

History of the London Missionary Society,

London Froude 1899. 2 v. portraits, maps, O. 2rs. net.

The standard history of the society for foreign missions of the English Independent churches; from the society's letters, journals, minute-books, etc.; contains a full narrative of the society's missions in Polynesia, Madagascar, (v. 2) India, the West Indies, and China, of missions abandoned, and of home administration; of great value to the student of British missions and empire. There is a short illustrated "Story of the L. M. S." by C. S. Horne, 1895, also special accounts of the early history of the society by John Morison 1839 and William Ellis 1844, and of its history in India by George Gogerly 1871.

McCarthy, Justin. Reminiscences.

N. Y. Harper 1899. 2 v. portrait, O. $4.50.

Reminiscences of the years 1852-98, by the journalist, Irish-Liberal, Justin McCarthy; contains accounts of most of the public characters of the time in England and America, including notices of the Morning Star and Daily News, of pre-Raphaelitism, positivism, home rule, parliament, the stage, Cobden, Bright, J. S. Mill, Lord John Russell, Randolph Churchill, Northcote, Parnell, Gladstone, Manning, Kingsley, Froude, Freeman, Eliot, Meredith, etc.; of general and unusual interest for its journalistic gossip about well-known men by one who has known them well.

Ath. 1899. 1:647; Sat. R. 87:658; Nation 69:173; Literature 4:519; 5:9, 33 (W. D. Howells); Forum 28:374 (W. P. Trent).

McCarthy, Justin. Story of the people of England in the 19th century (Story of the nations).

London Unwin, N. Y. Putnam 1899. 2 v. portraits, plates, D. $3.

A popular history of England in the 19th century; (in the English edition entitled "Modern England") by an experienced historian and politician; contains some account of the history of politics, the church, industry, science, art, and thought; of interest to the general reader. The most popular Liberal account of the period (1837-97) is by the same author, 5 v. 1878-97, a substantial Radical liberal history (1815-86), by Spencer Walpole, 6 v. 1878-90. Joseph Irving "Annals of our time, 1837-71", 1872, with supplements to 1892, is the standard work of reference for chronology.

Ath. 1899. 1:656; Nation 69:229.

Manners, Walter Evelyn. Some account of the military, political and social life of John Manners, Marquis of Granby.

London and N. Y. Macmillan 1899. 10+463 p. portraits, plates, maps, O. $7.

A substantial biography of John Manners, 1721-70, Commander of the English forces in Europe in the Seven Years' War; from the Newcastle Papers, Grenville Papers, and other sources; contains a good account of Granby's life, traversing the judgments of Walpole and of Junius, and an excellent narrative of the English share in the Seven Years' War, with bibliographical list; of value to the student. Note E. v. d. Knesebeck "Ferdinand Herzog zu Braunschweig während des siebenjährigen Krieges", 2 v. 1857, J. W. v. Archenholz "Geschichte des Siebenjährigen Krieges", 1793, 1879; and the French works of Richard Waddington, 1597, 1899.

Benson, Arthur Christopher. Life of Edward White Benson.

London and N. Y. Macmillan, 1899. 2 v. illus. portraits, plates, O. $8.

The authorized biography of Edward White Benson, archbishop of Canterbury 1883-96; by his son; contains correspondence with J. B. Lightfoot, Miss E. Wordsworth, A. J. Mason and others; a detailed account of Benson as student at Cambridge, Master at Rugby, Head-Master at Wellington, Chancellor of Lincoln, Bishop of Truro, and Archbishop, with much relating to the Lincoln trial, ecclesiastical legislation, and relations with the Colonial Church, the Eastern Church and the Roman Catholic Church; of great value to the student of the ecclesiastical history of the time.

Ath. 1899. 2 : 855.

Bingham, Jennie M. Life of the 7th Earl of Shaftesbury.

Cincinnati Curts, 1899. 289 p. D. 90c.

A good short biography of Anthony Ashley Cooper, 7th Earl of Shaftesbury, 1801-85 philanthropist; based upon the standard biography by Edwin Hodder, 3 v. 1886; contains an account of the Earl's reform measures relative to child labor and the factory system; of interest to the general reader.

Cust, Lionel. History of Eton College (English public schools).

London Duckworth, 1899. 16+318 p. portraits, plates, O. 5s. net.

A useful history of Eton, 1440-1899; by an Etonian; contains nothing new except the illustrations, its discussion of Eton sports and of Eton under the new statutes; of popular interest. For history the standard work is H. C. M. Lyte, for biography A. C. Benson "Fasti Etonenses", and for original material Chetwynd-Stapylton "Eton School Lists", an inexhaustible mine of information.

Ath. 1900. 1 : 8; Nation 70 : 366 (unfav.)

Harris, J. Henry, editor. Robert Raikes, the man and his work.

Bristol [England] Arrowsmith, N. Y. Dutton, 1899. 24+335 p. illus. portraits, fac-similes, O. 7s. 6d.

Some memorials of Robert Raikes, 1736-1811, the founder of Sunday Schools; from shorthand notes taken in conversation with contemporaries by the late Josiah Harris, unpublished letters of Raikes, etc.; contains matter relating to the origin (1783) and early history of Sunday Schools in England, and history of provincial journalism in the 18th century, with letters from prominent evangelical clergy of today upon the influence of Sunday Schools; of interest to the student of social reform. Joseph Belcher "Robert Raikes" Philadelphia 1859, contains little about Raikes; the standard biography is that by Alfred Gregory 1877.

Ath. 1899. 2 : 155.

Hunter, Sir William Wilson. History of British India [1418-1623].

London and N. Y. Longmans, 1899. v. 1, maps, O. $5.

The best history of the beginnings of British Empire in India, being the first part of a History of India uncompleted because of the death of the author; by an Indian civilian and authority on Indian history; contains an account of the struggle between Christendom and Islam for the Indian seas, between Portuguese and English, English and Dutch, with much useful bibliographical information; of value to the student as an introduction to the documentary material in Henry Stevens, Birdwood and Foster, Danvers and Foster, etc. Note, too, R. S. Whiteway "Rise of Portuguese power in India, 1497-1550" 1899.

Eng. Hist. R. 14: 566. (G. Le Strange); Ath. 1899. 1: 745; Sat. R. 87: 338.

Kent, Clement Boulton Roylance. The English radicals, an historical sketch.

London and N. Y. Longmans, 1899. 11+451 p. D. $2.50.

The most comprehensive history of English radicalism, 1761 to the present; from the more accessible printed sources; contains some account of the origin of English radicalism, its representatives, and its principles; of general value and interest. There is a less able discussion of this subject by Edward Smith "English Jacobins", of its earlier phase by J. B. Daly, of its later phase by J. H. Rose.

Ath. 1899. 2: 461; Quar. 191: 207.

Maxwell, Sir Herbert, Bart. The life of Wellington, the restoration of the martial power of Great Britain.

London Sampson Low, Boston Little, Brown, 1899. 2 v. portraits, plates, maps, plans, O. $11.25.

A companion to Captain Mahan's Life of Nelson, a biography of Arthur Wellesley, 1769-1852; from unused Apsley House, De Ros, Dumaresq, Hamilton and Salisbury mss., etc. describes his military career in India, in the Peninsula, and at Waterloo, and his work as Tory politician and prime minister, with some discussion of his influence on the army and on constitutional reform, some account of his private life, and notices of contemporary measures and men, Canning, Peel, etc.; of general interest and value, particularly for its criticism of Sir Wm. Napier. Best short biography, G. Hooper, 1889; the most complete, G. R. Gleig, 4 v. 1858-60.

Ath. 1899. 2: 827.

Smith, Goldwin. The United Kingdom, a political history.

London and N. Y. Macmillan, 1899. 2 v. O. $4.

A popular compendium of British history, from the 5th century to the present time; based upon some of the more recent research; contains a vigorous narrative of British political history, written from the Liberal point of view; of general interest, but inaccurate, particularly as regards Scotch history. Of this class of books Green's Short History still remains unequalled.

Eng. Hist. R. 15: 348 (S. R. Gardiner); Blackw. 167: 541 (Scotland and Mr. Goldwin Smith, by A. Lang); Ath. 1899. 2: 761; 1900. 1: 5.

Lang, Andrew. The mystery of Mary Stuart. 3d edition revised.

London Longmans 1901. 24+452 p. portraits, plates, O. $5.

An authoritative essay (1st ed., October, 2d ed., December, 1901) upon the Darnley murder, based upon the newly discovered Lennox Papers; shows how Lennox, Darnley's father, conducted the prosecution; argues that letter II is, at least in part, a genuine composition by the Queen, tho a version of it forged to strengthen the case against the Queen once existed; presents vivid sketches of principal characters implicated, with fresh light on the conduct of Maitland of Lethington; concludes that existing evidence is insufficient to justify any definite and impartial verdict. For the anti-Marian position see T. F. Henderson "The Casket letters", 1889; for the pro-Marian, John Skelton "Maitland of Lethington", 1888, 2v.

Layard, George Somes. Mrs. Linn Linton; her life, letters and opinions.

London Methuen 1901. 11+387 p. portraits, plates, O. 12s. 6d.

The authorized biography of Mrs. Elizabeth (Lynn) Linton, 1822-1898, novelist; describing her early life in Crosthwaite, marriage to Wm. James Linton, journalistic career on the Morning Chronicle, Saturday Review, Household Words, etc., work as a novelist, relations with spiritualism, opposition to the Woman's Rights movement, agnosticism, with letters of her friends Landor, Spencer, and others. Note also Mrs. Linton's accounts of her literary friendships entitled "My literary life", 1899, and her autobiographic novel, the "Autobiography of Christopher Kirkland", 1885.

Ath. 1901, 1:621.

Lennox, Cuthbert. The practical life work of Henry Drummond, with an introduction by H. W. Mabie.

N. Y. Pott 1901. 22+244 p. portraits, plate, D. $1. net.

A popular biography of Henry Drummond, 1851-1897, evangelist and author, by a friend; supplements the standard biography by George Adam Smith [6th and cheap edition, 1902, 3s. 6d.], with information drawn from letters, etc., not accessible to him, relating particularly to the Moody revival of 1873-74, the Edinburgh students revival of 1884-85, the boys' brigade movement, visit to America, and literary work. "Notes for a bibliography", p. 229-239.

Lord, Walter Frewen. England and France in the Mediterranean, 1660-1830.

London Low 1901. 2+[3]+345 p. map, O. 8s. 6d. net.

Authoritative essays upon the history of British empire, particularly Anglo-French relations, in the Mediterranean, by the author of "Lost possessions of England", 1896, "Sir Thomas Maitland: the mastery of the Mediterranean", 1897; describes chiefly the naval and diplomatic history of the Mediterranean question during the early part of the 19th century, the English possession of Gibraltar, the French possession of Algiers, the struggle for Egypt, 1797-1830, and for Italy, 1793-1815. Note also Maurice Jollivet "Les Anglais dans la Méditerranée, 1794-1797," 1896.

Ath. 1901, 2:655.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that a knowledge of the past is essential for a proper understanding of the present and for the guidance of the future. The author then proceeds to a detailed examination of the various factors which have shaped the development of the United States, from the early years of settlement to the present day.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a study of the political and social conditions of the United States at the present time. The author discusses the various problems which are facing the country, such as the question of race, the problem of poverty, and the problem of education. He then offers his own views on the best way to deal with these problems.

The third part of the paper is a study of the literature of the United States. The author discusses the various types of literature which have been produced in the country, from the early days of settlement to the present day. He then offers his own views on the best way to deal with these problems.

The fourth part of the paper is a study of the art of the United States. The author discusses the various types of art which have been produced in the country, from the early days of settlement to the present day. He then offers his own views on the best way to deal with these problems.

The fifth part of the paper is a study of the science of the United States. The author discusses the various types of science which have been produced in the country, from the early days of settlement to the present day. He then offers his own views on the best way to deal with these problems.

Macgregor, Alexander. The life of Flora Macdonald. 4th edition.

Stirling Eneas Mackay London Gibbings 1901. 20+152 p. portraits, plates, O. 2s. 6d.

The standard biography of Flora Macdonald, 1722-1790, Jacobite heroine (1st edition, 1882); a thrilling narrative of the escape of Charles Edward after the battle of Culloden in 1746, under the guidance of Flora Macdonald; with a memoir of the author. The autobiography by the grand-daughter, Mrs. Wylde, 1870, is of little value. There is an authoritative life of Charles Edward by A. C. Ewald, 1886, and an account of Flora Macdonald in Uist. by W. Jolly, 1886.

Morris, John Edward. The Welsh wars of Edward I; a contribution to mediæval military history, based on original documents.

Oxford Clarendon press 1901. 12+327 p. gen. tables, map, O. 9s. 6d. net.

A scholarly essay upon British military history, 1277-1295, describing the creation of the marcher lordships and normanization of Wales, the Welsh reaction during the Barons' war and the wars with Llewelyn; showing the military weakness of the feudal system and the genesis of the paid soldier, the evolution of the typically English combination of knights with archers, and depicting in detail the movements of an English army in the field at the most critical point in mediæval military history.

Eng. Hist. R. 17:557 (T. F. Tout); Ath. 1902, 2:275.

Müller, Friedrich Max. My autobiography. a fragment.

N. Y. Scribner 1901. 11+[3]+327 p. portraits, O. $2.

Autobiography of Max Müller, 1823-1900, Orientalist, Professor of comparative philology at Oxford, 1868-1900; describes his German childhood and education, and his work upon the origin of language and of religion, as student of Sanskrit and editor of the Rigâ-Veda and of the Sacred Books of the East. His "Auld lang Syne", 2v., 1898-99, contains much about his friends.

Ath. 1902, 1:302.

Napier, Lady Sarah (Lennox). The life and letters of Lady Sarah Lennox, 1745-1826, daughter of Charles, 2d duke of Richmond, and successively the wife of Sir Thomas Charles Bunbury, bart., and of the Hon. George Napier; also a short political sketch of the years 1760 to 1763 by Henry Fox, 1st lord Holland, edited by the countess of Ilchester and lord Stavordale.

London Murray 1901. 2v. portraits, O. 32s. net.

Consists chiefly of the correspondence of Lady Sarah with her friend, Lady Susan Fox Strangways, eldest daughter of Lord Ilchester, brother of Henry Fox; illustrates the court life of the early years of the reign of George III, as Fanny Burney's diary and correspondence does the life of the upper middle class, throws some light on the political movements of the time, and upon the lives of Charles James Fox and other members of the Holland House set.

Mackennal, Alexander. Sketches in the evolution of English congregationalism. Carew lecture for 1900-01.

London Nisbet, Boston Pilgrim press 1901. 9+259 p. O. 5s. $1. net.

Popular lectures upon the history of English congregationalism; by the author of "The story of the English separatists", discussing the spiritual forces and conditions underlying its development, particularly its doctrines, and its relation with the Established Church. For fuller detail see the histories of puritanism, independency, dissent, and nonconformity, and especially the histories of congregationalism by Henry M. Dexter, 1880, of Congregationalism in Scotland by James Ross, 1900, in America, by Albert E. Dunning, 1894.

Molloy, Joseph Fitzgerald. The queen's comrade; the life and times of Sarah, duchess of Marlborough.

London Hutchinson, N. Y. Dodd 1901. 2v. portraits, O. 24s. $6.50 net.

A popular biography of Sarah (Jennings) Churchill, duchess of Marlborough, 1660-1744; full of contemporary gossip regarding the court, with some fresh information from the Marlborough papers relating to social episodes in the career of the duchess; written from the Jacobite point of view. More interesting than the standard biography by Mrs. Thomson, 1839, 2v. Cf. the autobiography entitled, "an account of the Dowager duchess of Marlborough from her first coming to court to the year 1710", 1742, and the "Private correspondence of Sarah, duchess of M., illustrative of the court and times of Queen Anne", 1838, 2v., and the "letters of Sarah, duchess of M., now first printed from the original mss. at Madresfield court", 1875.

Sichel, Walter. Bolingbroke and his times.

London Nisbet, N. Y. Longmans 1901. 10+550 p. portrait, O. $4.

A comprehensive biography of Henry St. John, 1st viscount Bolingbroke, 1678-1751, Tory statesman; contains much information particularly relating to Bolingbroke's early life and English history from 1710 to 1714, not found in the standard life by Thomas Macknight, 1863, but less useful because of its poor arrangement and Tory bias. Continued in Bolingbroke and his times: the sequel, 1902. Note the Bolingbroke letters and correspondence, (ed.) G. Parke, 1798, 4v., and the scholarly essay by Felix Salomon "Geschichte des letzten Ministeriums Königin Annas von England (1710-1714), und der englische Thronfolgefrage", Gotha, 1894.

Eng. Hist. R. 17:167 (Thos. Bateson); Ath. 1901, 1:623; Nation, 73:211.

Smeaton, William Henry Oliphant. Principal James Morison, the man and his work; a monograph, with an appreciation by A. M. Fairbairn.

Edinburgh Oliver & Boyd 1901. 27+250 p. portrait, 4 plates, D. 2s. 6d.

A biographical sketch of James Morison, 1816-1893, founder of the Evangelical union church, based upon the exhaustive memoir by Wm. Adamson, 1898; describes his life at Edinburgh university, career as a Secession minister, formulation of the doctrines of the universality of grace and the conditionality of salvation, formation of the Evangelical union and work as a pastor and professor in Glasgow, 1851-93; his friend, John Guthrie, etc. Note also Fergus Ferguson "Hist. of the Evangelical union", 1876, and C. G. McCrie "Church of Scotland: her divisions and her reunions", 1901.

Smith, Charlotte Fell. Mary Rich, countess of Warwick (1625-1678): her family and friends.

London and N. Y. Longmans 1901. 16+377 p. portraits, plates, O. 18s. $7.50.

The authoritative biography of Mary (Boyle) Rich, 4th countess of Warwick, 1625-78, based upon her diary, a few extracts from which were printed by the English monthly tract society about 1845 as "A memoir of the Countess of Warwick", her autobiography, edited by T. C. Croker for the Percy society in 1848, and the Lismore papers, edited by A. B. Grosart, 1886-88, 10v., containing much relative to the religious life of the Restoration period, the Boyle and Rich families, and Essex clergy. A biography of the Countess of Warwick by Mary E. Palgrave in the Saintly lives series costs 4s. 6d.

Eng. Hist. R. 17:166 (C. H. Firth); Ath. 1902, 1:113; Lit. 9:510.

Spielmann, Marion Harry. British sculpture and sculptors of today.

London Cassell 1901. 8+176 p. illus. portraits, plates, Q. 7s. 6d.

A review of the work of British sculptors, 1875-1901, by the editor of the Magazine of art; describes with some detail the work of over 50 living artists, Albert Gilbert, Hamo Thornycroft, Thomas Brock, etc., etc., fully illustrated.

Stone, J. M. The history of Mary I, Queen of England as found in the public records, despatches of ambassadors in original private letters, and other contemporary documents. London Sands, N. Y. Dutton 1901. 10+[1]+545 p. portraits, facsim. O. 12s. 6d.

An interesting and scholarly biography of Mary, 1516-1558, by Miss Stone, author of "Faithful unto death: sufferings of English Franciscans" (1892), based upon hitherto unused reports of Spanish, French, and Venetian ambassadors, etc. It is written from the Romanist point of view and as a biography is quite adequate but as a history of her reign it is, like the protestant histories by Froude and by Tytler, inadequate. A monograph "Maria Katholische", by A. Zimmermann, S. J. 1890. may be noted.

Ath. 1902, 1:9.

Stretton, Clement E. The history of the Midland railway. London Methuen 1901. 12+358 p. illus. portraits, plates, map, O. 12s. 6d.

An authoritative history compiled from the Stretton Railway collection, and official records; describes the history of the Leicester & Swannington, Midland Counties, North Midland, and Birmingham & Derby railways to their amalgamation as the Midland railway, together with the history of the Derby & Bristol, Leeds & Bradford, Manchester & Liverpool, etc., branches of the Midland railway, of its organization, equipment, etc., like the history of the Great western by G. A. Sekon, 1895, and that of the Great northern, by C. H. Grinling, 1898, a substantial contribution to English railway history.

Taunton, Ethelred L. The history of the Jesuits in England, 1580-1773. London Methuen, Phila. Lippincott 1901. 12+513 p. portraits, plates, O. 21s. $3.75, net.

A useful history of the political activity of the Jesuits in England, based chiefly upon printed sources. Contains an especially full account of Robert Parsons, with something upon the arch priest controversy, and the gunpowder plot; written from a secular priest's point of view. Note Henry Foley's "Records of the English province of the Society of Jesus", 1875-79, 5v.

Ath. 1901, 1:557; Acad. 60:361; Month, 97:502 (J. H. Pollen); Am. Hist. R. 8:130 (A. L. Cross).

Wilkins, William Henry. Caroline, the illustrious queen-consort of George II. and sometime queen-regent; a study of her life and time.

London & N. Y. Longmans 1901. 2v. portraits, plates, facsim. O. 36s.

An authoritative biography of Caroline, 1683-1737, by the author of the life of George II's mother, entitled: "The love of an uncrowned queen"; from Hanoverian archives, etc., especially valuable for the period before 1714, and its light on the Hanoverian court, particularly the Electress Sophia, also for its gossip concerning the courts of Georges I and II, and the queen's relations with Walpole.

Eng. Hist. R. 17:586 (B. Williams); Ath. 1902, 1:71; Acad. 62:80.
